

THE MISSIONARY MOVEMENT.

LAST DAY'S WORK OF THE ASSOCIATION.

OFFICERS ELECTED BY A SMALL VOTE—TWO COMMITTEES REFUSE TO SERVE.

Only twenty-five votes were cast yesterday at the annual election of officers by the American Missionary Association, and five of these votes were scratched. The conservative feeling was manifested at the meeting presented by the Rev. Dr. G. P. R. Scott as chairman, and candidates named by the committee, William B. Washburn, was elected president, and little change was made in the official board, with the exception of the Executive Committee, from which one of the old members were dropped. The members dropped were General Clinton B. Fisk, of this city, in whose honor one of the universities bears the name, and the Rev. A. P. Foster, the secretary of the recent Executive Committee; Dr. A. L. Williston, of this city; Franklin Fairbanks, of New York; the Rev. S. H. Virgin, of this city; J. R. Davenport, of New York; and W. H. Williston, of the auditors, the Rev. M. F. Beeding, was replaced by the Rev. J. H. Rogers. The new members of the Executive Committee were elected by the Rev. Dr. Ward, the Rev. A. H. Bradford, and others, and defended by his chairman.

The closing sessions of the Association were attended. The Rev. Dr. Ward Beecher dropped into the morning meeting for a short time and was called upon to pray. His brother, the Rev. Dr. Edward Beecher, of Dartmouth College, read a report from the Committee on Education and afterward made an address in which he spoke of the colored youths, both in Dartmouth and elsewhere, and the Rev. Dr. W. M. Taylor, of this city, made an address on "What the Bible Says About Slavery."

Dr. Taylor said that he found giving spoken of as a part of self-consecration, a grace, a communion, a fellowship, a communion with the saints, and he said could be "held in communion with the necessities of the saints." The reward promised for Christian giving was temporal, spiritual and systematic, the motive being Christ's example, who became poor for the sake of making men rich. The Rev. Dr. Washington Gladstone read statistics to show that while illiteracy was gaining in the South positively, it was not gaining relatively.

When the American Home Missionary Society held its meeting in Saratoga last June, a committee was appointed to confer with one appointed by the Missionary Association on the feasibility of having both organizations carry on the same work in the same territory. The committee appointed by the Society was as follows: The Rev. Drs. Twichell, of Boston; Lyman Abbott, of New York; G. L. Walker, of Hartford; C. St. Louis, of New York; and the Rev. Dr. D. D. Denison, of New-Haven. The following were appointed by the association: President Bartlett, of Dartmouth College; the Rev. Dr. J. H. Rogers, of Worcester; W. G. Adams, of New York; D. O. Meigs, of Worcester; and W. H. Ward, of New York. This Joint Committee met yesterday and organized by electing Dr. Twichell president and Dr. Ward secretary.

About an hour and a half was spent in conference when this committee adjourned to meet in Springfield, Mass., after deciding to invite a representative of the official board of each organization to meet with this committee.

Dr. Stiebel, a secretary of the association, read a paper on "Caste in America," which was read by the Rev. E. W. Bacon, of New-London. Professor Hartford Theological Seminary; Dr. Meigs, of Worcester; Almon Merwin, of Brooklyn; Mrs. Myers, of Kentucky; and the Rev. Dr. Barlow, of Yale College, and Dr. Denison, of New-Haven, made addresses. The Rev. Dr. Stiebel, of Brooklyn, had been invited to confer with the Rev. Dr. Ward, but it was not until his ill health prevented his attending the meeting.

After the evening exercises the Rev. Dr. Rankin, read the following resolutions from two members of the Executive Committee.

The Rev. J. E. Rankin, D. D., Moderator, etc.: Dear Brother: I desire, through you, to tender my resignation as a member of the Executive Committee of the American Missionary Association, to which I have been to-day elected by the members of the Association.

My heart is full of the love of my country, and my American Missionary Association, and my earnest prayer that its work may be enlarged and blessed by God, be it to me, most respectfully and sincerely yours, J. E. RANKIN.

While this letter was a great surprise to many delegates, others saw that it was the outgrowth of the unpleasant feeling shown at the election in the afternoon. Hardly had Dr. Rankin finished reading the letter when Dr. Ward, secretary of the Nominating Committee, went to the seat of Dr. Foster and said, "What they are doing will create a great disturbance."

"I have nothing to do with it," replied Mr. Foster. "A motion made by the Rev. Mr. Bradford, of Montclair, that the resignations be accepted and a new Nominating Committee be appointed to present two names to take the place of those withdrawn, was adopted and Mr. Bradford was made chairman of the committee. The names of the Rev. A. P. Foster, of Jersey City, and Clinton B. Fisk, of this city, were suggested and they were unanimously elected and restored to their place on the Executive Committee."

REMEDIES FOR STOCK WATERING.

PROPOSITIONS MADE BY THE CHAMBER OF COMMERCE.

At the meeting of the Chamber of Commerce yesterday D. C. Robbins, C. N. Bliss, D. Willis James, Gardner R. Colby, and Robert F. Austin were appointed a committee to consider the question of reformed bankruptcy laws and recommend some plan of action which will attract general support. A memorial to the city council was adopted asking that the marble slab on which Washington stood when he took his first Presidential oath of office be removed from Bellevue Hospital to the site of the old city hall, and that the site of the old city hall be reserved for the use of the city.

Charles S. Smith, of the special committee on Railroad Transportation, submitted a report on the watering of stocks of corporations, recommending the following propositions and supporting them with a long argument:

First.—That stock exchanges similar to the late issue of $13,000,000 of Manhattan Elevated Railway stock constitute a grave offense against the community, and should be made a misdemeanor.

Second.—That capitalization of surplus earnings should be prohibited by law; that increase of capital, either by stock or bonds, should be defined by strict legal formulas, easily understood and only permitted for good and sufficient public reasons, and not because it can be shown that a corporation can make a profit at a rate of interest on an increased capital.

Third.—That the public welfare requires that corporations should be regulated by government supervision and control, "State or National, or both, as the case may be," by means of commissions or boards, to be created by law, and that such Government supervision should have power to regulate and control, within reasonable limits, the charges of these corporations.

Fourth.—That orders for the sale of stocks between these corporations and their customers should be decided by Government Commissioners, with the right to appoint and remove them at will. That larger and more important questions should be, as now referred to the Legislature or to the courts.

Fifth.—That there should be no fixed limit to the rate of cash dividend corporations acting under such supervision as above indicated may be fixed by stockholders, by the exercise of superior management of their affairs or of increased property, but such questions should be left to the legislative power which can make or decide upon any necessary varying conditions of each case.

The report was adopted.

DETERMINED TO RESIST THE UNION.

The dissipation of the printing press in the recent strike is growing, and the idea of an association of employers meets with favor. L. Middlebrock, against whom the strike is still in force, said yesterday:

"I have given my men the scale of prices proposed by the union, and I have shown them that I do not want to do the same class of work that I do; but when I come to recognizing the right of a union, or any body of men to regulate my business and to dictate whom I shall employ, I draw the line, and will not submit to it. The union has gone far enough in this matter. The president told me that he had $20,000 to spend in order to make this a union of one, and that he would make it a union of one. So long as they confine themselves to threats I am contented, but if they attempt to carry them out some of the union people will have an even chance of being inside of the Toms, they have attempted to bribe my men to leave me. My foreman was offered $20 a week if he would leave, and my pressman was offered $15 a week, but they both stood by me. Threats of physical violence have been used against some of the men. I shall certainly protect them in case they are molested. I have had to call in policemen to clear away the crowd of union men who congregated around my door. I have had no difficulty in getting my work done, and I have received a number of applications from out-of-town printers for work."

DICTATING TERMS TO EMPLOYERS.

The journeyman tailors, the employ of a contractor named Weinberger, who were on strike on account of the discharge of one of their number, yesterday returned to work, having accepted the terms of the employers. The employers, however, refused to make a pledge not to discharge a man because he may have been engaged in a strike. In addition they compelled him to deposit $100 in a bank to the credit of the trustees of the Tailors' Manufacturing Union, as security for his work.

The silk weavers, the employ of Mr. Steinhardt, who were on strike yesterday, returned to work as he had concluded to accede to the demand for extra pay. Another silk manufacturer, named Meyer, also demanded pay for making up, whereupon the others also left their work, and the shop will be declared on strike. The silk weavers formerly on strike are now allowed to apply for employment there.

FATAL FALL OF A ROOF.

A MAN AND A GIRL KILLED.

THE SUPPORTS OF A SHEED PULLED OUT TOO SOON IN A SCRAMBLE FOR FIREWOOD.

Six Germans, employed by George Elbert, the brewer, began to tear down a frame shed on the southwest corner of First-ave. and Thirty-ninth-st., yesterday morning. Mr. Elbert recently purchased the property. The shed was only one story in height, but it covered much ground, extending about 125 feet in Thirty-ninth-st. and 50 feet in the avenue.

For several years, Mr. Elbert wanted the ground cleared for the erection of more substantial buildings. His workmen began to do the last of his work yesterday. The work of destruction was hastened by a small army of children from the neighboring tenement-houses, who collected the debris and carried it away. The removal of small pieces of wood and they soon became powerless against the crowd of wreckers. Loose boards were torn from the sides of the shed, and the roof was carried off so much lumber, and he succeeded in frightening away many of the larger boys and girls. At noon, however, he was obliged to stop. A bullet into his head, close to his right ear, fell down on the floor of the car, and the car was stopped until an ambulance was summoned. The man was carried to St. Catherine's Hospital, where he died before the police arrived. He had started in the North Second-st. and Middle Village car for the Lutheran Cemetery.

THE SANITARY INSPECTION OF SCHOOLS.

In accordance with instructions received from General Alexander Shaler, the president of the Board of Health, the sanitary engineers and inspectors of the Board have been engaged in making an examination of the schools in the city, with a view to their sanitary condition. It is intended that these examinations shall cover all the public and parochial schools in the city. A few days ago the Board of Health, the Board of Education, and the Board of Sanitation, were in session to consider the reports for publication, and by resolution yesterday referred them to the Board of Education, after reading the reports, said yesterday to a reporter of THE TRIBUNE, that he did not think it would be wise to publish the reports until they had been officially brought before the Board of Education, which would not be until the meeting of the Board on Wednesday. He said that the Board of Health, the Board of Education, and the Board of Sanitation, were in session to consider the reports for publication, and by resolution yesterday referred them to the Board of Education, after reading the reports, said yesterday to a reporter of THE TRIBUNE, that he did not think it would be wise to publish the reports until they had been officially brought before the Board of Education, which would not be until the meeting of the Board on Wednesday.
